

Undertaking # 39

MPI to provide its position on the question of changing the break-even objective from net income to total comprehensive income.

RESPONSE:

The Corporation's position is that calculating break-even rates based on fiscal year net income provides more rate stability than utilizing total comprehensive income; and therefore, we do not recommend changing the current methodology.