OIL BUOYS MARKETS

ONTARIO • The Toronto stock exchange reversed course from the previous day's loss to post a triple-digit gain Tuesday. Zig-zagging oil prices rose sharply. The S&P/TSX composite index closed 188.16 points at 12,331.32, following a 188-point decline on Monday. The heavily weighted energy subsector rose by more than four per cent as the March contract for North American benchmark crude oil rose $1.11 to settle at $51.45 a barrel. The commodity-sensitive loonie was a big beneficiary of the jump in oil prices, rising 0.97 of a cent to end trading at US71.05 cents.

The last time the loonie closed above US71 cents was on Jan. 6 and the currency fell as low as US68.21 cents last week, according to Bank of Canada data.

In other commodities the March contract for natural gas added 0.2 of a cent to US$2.18 per mmBtu and February gold advanced $15.50 to US$1,121.70 a troy ounce.

In New York, the Dow Jones industrial average bounced back from a 208-point decline the day before as it soared 282.01 points to 16,167.23. The S&P 500 gained 26.55 points to close at 1,903.63 and the Nasdaq added 49.18 points to 4,567.67.
